

THE MISSING INVENTORY

The FBI inventory list does not include any of the items the Federal Agents removed from my safe. I provided the combination to the safe to FBI Special Agent Dennis Brady, who has later confirmed that they got the safe content, and he personally told me that due to the high value of the items they (the FBI) will receive it and place it in safe place which could be a bonded warehouse. Since then, the items disappeared and up to this day 9/5/2005 no one knows where a half million dollar went?

Content of the safe on 4/26/2005

- The Diamond inventory box containing 89.3 carat of diamond ($244,000 value)
- Diamond jewelry (4 x 1-carat rings in platinum setting) and (1x 0.5 carat wedding band) ($19,200 value)
- The gold inventory and gold jewelry samples (6 x man wrings manufactured in UAE) ($4,000 value)
- The US $1,000 collectable currency note ($1,000 X 20) this are $1,000 US legal tender notes (valued at $35,000)
- Collection of Gold DuPont lighters x 4-lighters (valued at $2,500)
- One 18K gold Breitling Emergency watch (valued at $38,000)
- Collectable foreign currency from various country, including the first 100-Dirhan note issued by UAE (value 25,000)
- Cash of US $10,000 in a Chase bank envelope
- Syrian national ID card, driver license, etc.
- Other miscellaneous items